Lately I've been thinking that maybe I should write a book. If I did that, it would have to be an e-book and the book would need to be short, easy to read, have a section for questions and not be boring. I thought that a few thousand dollars would be enough to make the book a reality and the price would be reasonable. It turns out that publishing a book is way more difficult than I thought. As most books I've read have told me the process starts with a book proposal. I found a website that describes a book proposal in simple terms. So I've begun writing down the whole proposal on paper and I have written an introduction. So I thought that maybe I should start writing this book. So how should it look like if I did that? I have a lot of questions about what is a good way to start the book and I know that I might never be able to answer all of
