Install any updates for the application that requires. Thanks. Oct 28, 2019 Check the settings of the file hash at your C:\Documents and Settings\Local Settings\Application Data\Steam\appcache\Dlls\ISArcExtract. The Default %appdata%\Steam\ISArcExtract folder has a log file of the hash. Go to that folder. Read the log file and search for 'hash'. Type 'it is not found any file specified for isarcextract fix' in the search box. If you do not see the "ISArcExtract" exe file, you will need to manually restore those file to the original path. For your reference, the original paths are : Backup C:\Users\Username\.minecraft\version Restore

C:\Users\Username\.minecraft\minecraft.jar. Mar 10, 2021 First, check if the %appdata%\Steam\Dlls folder is already an archive. If you have tried to install a game without archive of Dll files and you receive this error, it will most likely be because of an archive file. Try this: Delete the 'ISDone.dll', 'ISArcExtract.dll' and 'unarc.dll' folder from %appdata%\Steam\Dlls\ Re-install the application that requires ISArcExtract.dll. Update the application to the latest version. Install all Windows updates
