In this way, an unauthorized host, that must be authorized to connect to the Internet, can connect. If someone sends an HTTP request to our proxy server, the program will forward the request to the original server. Because of the IP change, however, the server will receive the request and will not make any changes. The proxy server is configured through a proxy configuration file. It is important to set this file on your proxy server because, otherwise, an unauthorized host, that is not using a proxy, will not be able to connect to the Internet.
